

Award Sheet

Battalion Starshina of the 195th Tank Battalion, 95th Tank Brigade, 9th Tank Corps

(Position, details of military formation, date of joining, and commander of the unit)

Starshina Androsov Anton Konstantinovich

(Military rank, surname, name and paternal name)

Medal for Battle Merits

(Recommended for what awards)

1. Birth Year 1911
2. Nationality Russian
3. Social Status N/A
4. Party Member Candidate member of the VKP(b) since 1943
5. Serving in the RKKA or RKKF since 1941
6. Participant in the Civil War N/A, serving in the Patriotic War from 03/10/1941 to 10/03/1943 on the Western Front, and then from 10/03/1943 to present time on the Central Front.
7. Wounds and Contusions None
8. Previous awards, when and what for None
9. Promotions/incentives and what for N/A
10. Service in the white or other bourgeois armies, or taken as a military prisoner N/A
11. Awardee's Permanent Address [Left blank]

1. Brief and detailed description of the personal feat of merits, or service in the staff of the military unit
Comrade Androsov timely and accurately delivered everything necessary: ammunition, provisions, and POL (Fuel & Lubricants) to the combat units, which contributed to the battalion's successful conduct of battle. During the battalion's combat operations from 27/08/1943 to 02/09/1943, the entire personnel of the battalion received hot food in a timely manner. Comrade Androsov delivered hot food under enemy fire to tank crews who were engaged in battle. He shows initiative in the provisioning and supplying of the personnel. He is an alert, and responsive comrade regarding the requests and needs of the entire personnel.

Conclusion: Deserving of the government award: Medal "For Combat Merit".

Signed, Commander of the 195th Tank Battalion, Captain Pavlov.

Government award 'Medal "For Combat Merit"' approved. 7th September 1943.

Commander of (unreadable), Colonel Gulashko(?)